

A Public Lecture

sponsored by

The Department of History

The University Visiting Speakers' Committee

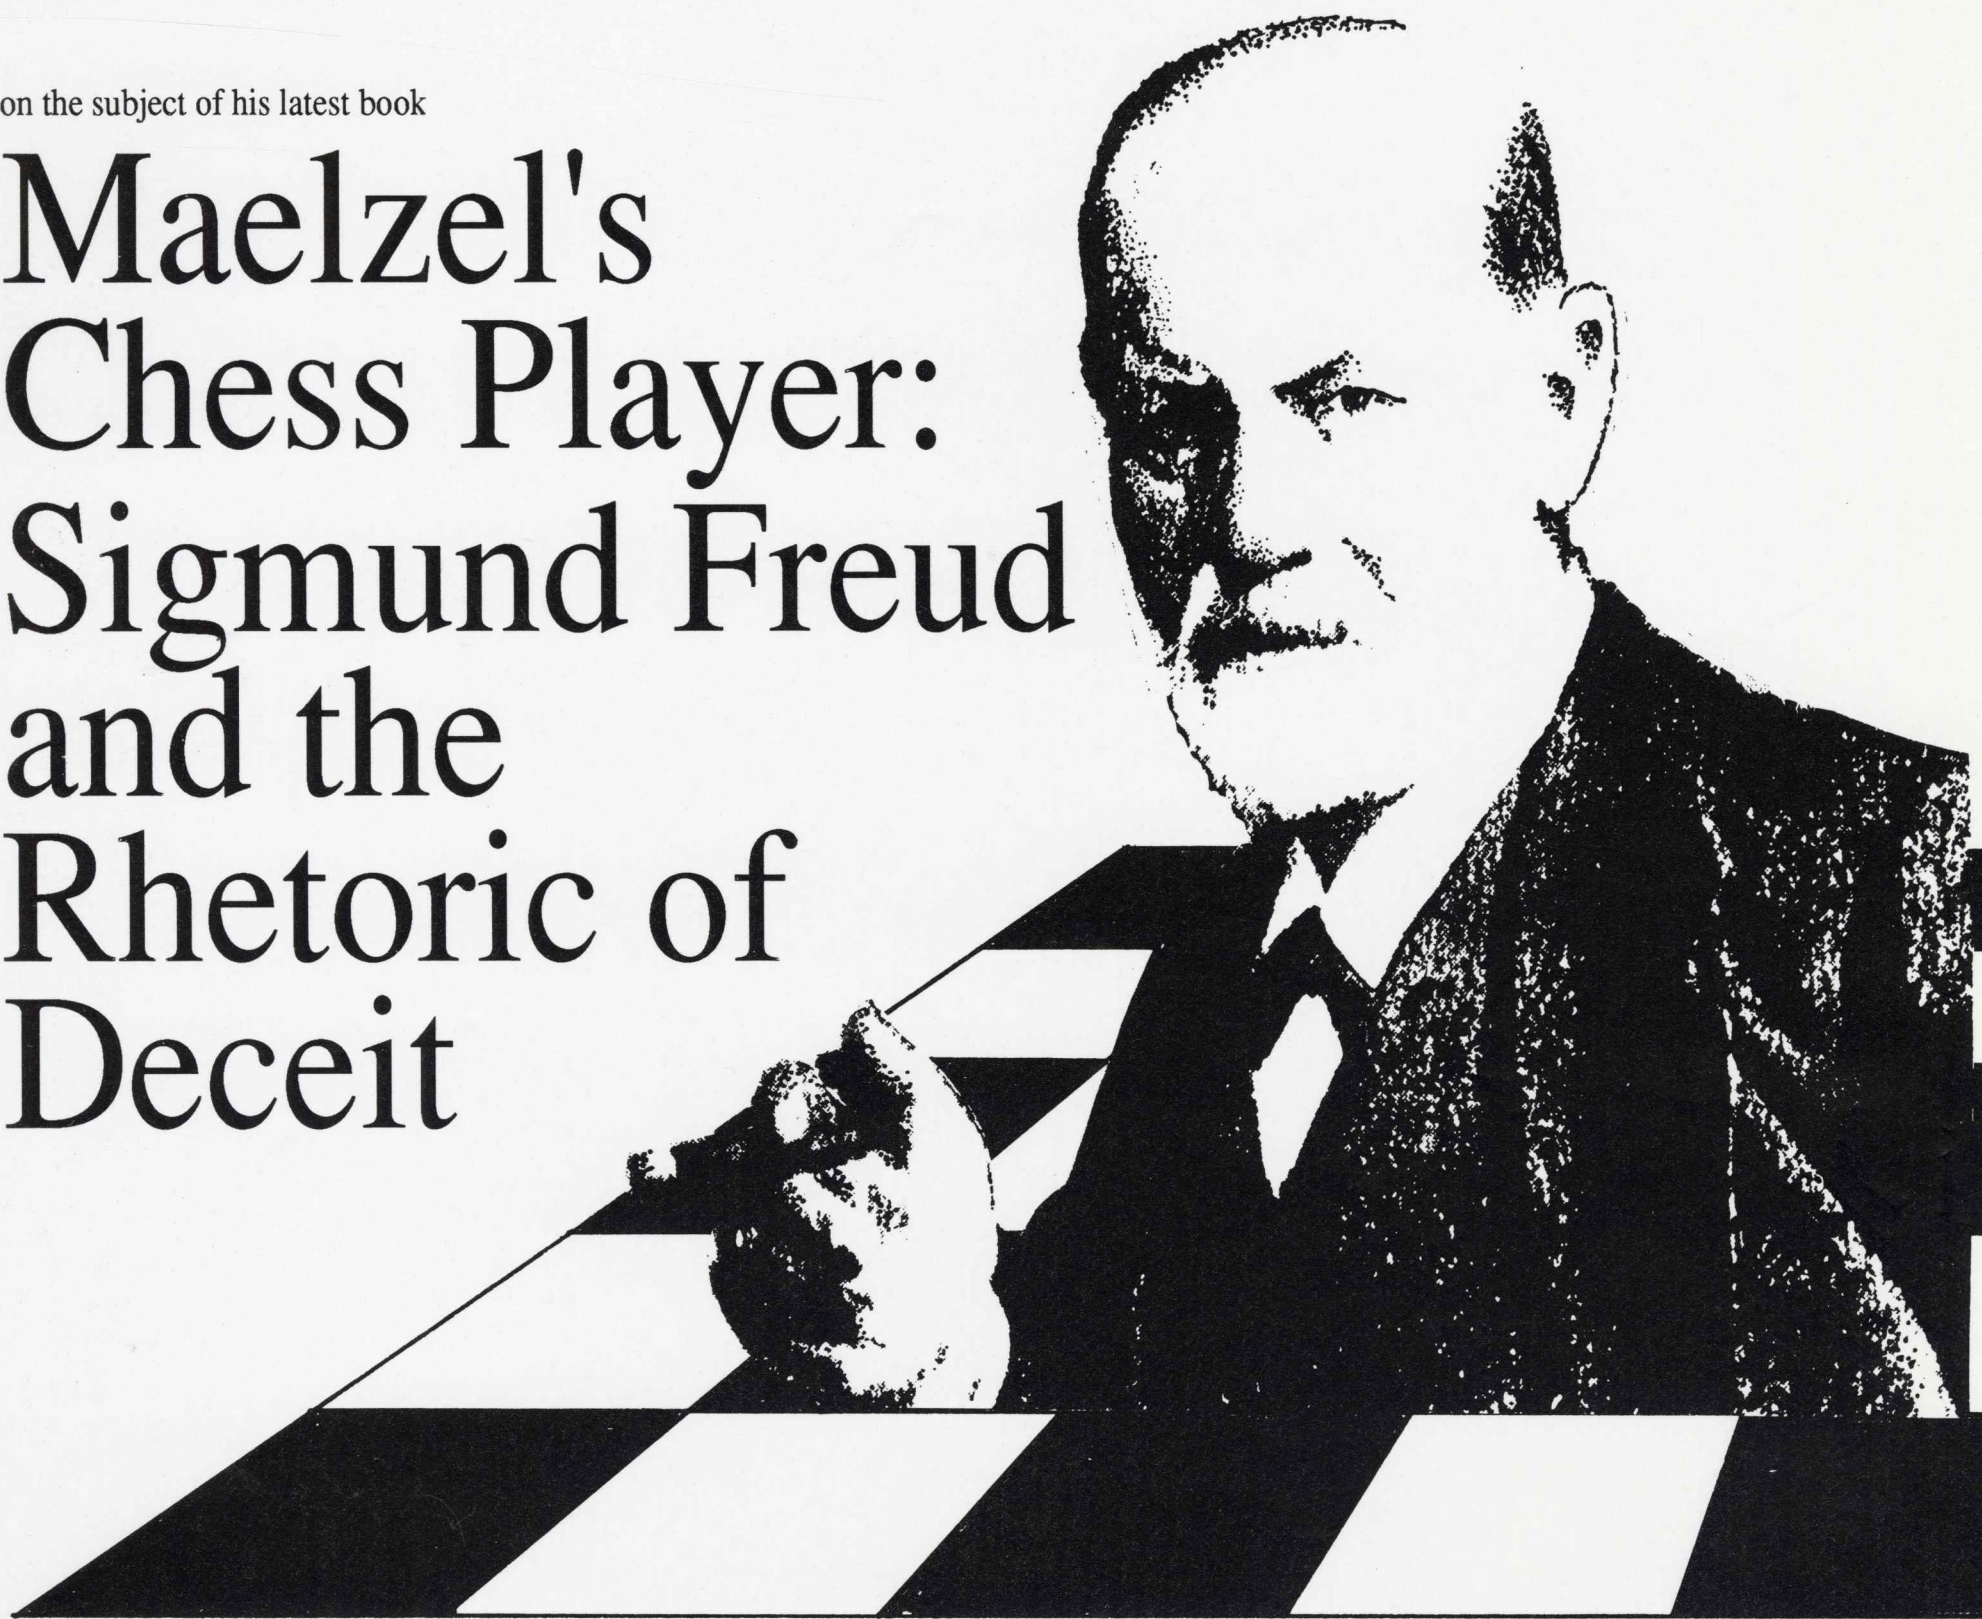

Liberal Arts College

Robert Wilcocks

Professor of French, The University of Alberta

on the subject of his latest book

Maelzel's Chess Player: Sigmund Freud and the Rhetoric of Deceit

Critical Comments on Maelzel's Chess Player

"...an indispensable work for anyone within the specialised fields of psychiatry, psychology and other behavioural sciences ... it will prove attractive to those working in the areas which have been significantly touched by Freudian claims - namely the humanities, creative arts and the media..."

Anthony Clare,
Professor of Psychiatry,
Trinity College, Dublin

" 'Take physic, psychopomp' is an apt prescriptive direction for Wilcocks' purge of Freudian pseudoscience from the literary body critical. What a glorious deflation!"

J. Allan Hobson,
Professor of Psychiatry,
Harvard Medical School

Thursday, 4 November 1993.

18:00-20:00

Room H-767 (Faculty Club) Hall Building,
Sir George Williams Campus
1455 de Maisonneuve Blvd West, Montreal

Free Admission

Concordia
UNIVERSITY